

3D Fiber Laser Cutting Machine with Robotic Arm

This 3D robot laser cutting system offers high flexibility and a modular design for consistent, high-quality cutting, especially for parts with complex geometries and large production scales. It integrates a clamping device, optical safety sealing, and a smoke extraction device, all designed to European standards, with optional sensor systems for online control reliability.

