

700C Alloy Flat Bar Road Bike

This flat bar road bike features a lightweight alloy frame for responsive handling. Equipped with Shimano components, it offers precise shifting for efficient performance on paved surfaces.

Overview

Designed for Speed and Agility

This 700C Alloy Flat Bar Road Bike is engineered for performance on paved surfaces, combining a lightweight frame with responsive handling. Its upright riding position ensures rider comfort, making it an excellent choice for daily commuting, fitness training, and recreational cycling. Equipped with high-performance components, the bike delivers precise shifting and reliable braking for a confident ride.

Technical Specifications

Wheel Size	700C
Frame Material	Alloy
Riding Position	Upright

Key Features

Performance Attributes

Lightweight • Responsive Handling • Precise Shifting • Reliable Braking

Intended Use	Commuting, Fitness, Recreational Cycling
--------------	--