

Audio and Video Processing Unit

This audio and video processing unit is designed for both home entertainment and professional audio setups. It offers versatile functionality for audio and video playback and customization.

Overview

Professional Multimedia Processing

The DVP-05 is a versatile audio and video processing unit designed for high-quality playback and customization. Featuring a robust front panel with intuitive controls, this device serves as a central hub for audio and video management. It is specifically engineered to handle CD/DVD karaoke functions, making it an ideal choice for both home entertainment and professional audio setups.

Technical Specifications

Interface Features

- Central display area
- Audio level adjustment knobs
- Menu navigation controls
- Input/Output ports

Device Type	Digital Audio/Video Karaoke Player
Model Number	DVP-05
Supported Media Formats	CD, DVD