

Automatic Bean-to-Cup Coffee Maker

This bean-to-cup automatic coffee maker is designed for American-style coffee. It features adjustable brew strength and grind settings, along with an auto-on function and a built-in grinder.

Overview

Professional American-Style Brewing

The H1000A is a versatile bean-to-cup automatic coffee maker engineered for high-quality American-style coffee. It features an integrated grinder for maximum freshness and a thermal carafe designed to maintain optimal serving temperatures for extended periods. With programmable scheduling and customizable strength settings, it offers a reliable and user-friendly solution for professional environments.

Core Features

Key Capabilities

1 unit

Integrated Grinder

24 hr

Auto-On Timer

Brewing Customization

Customization Options

- Adjustable brew strength
- Variable grind settings
- Scheduled brewing (Auto-On)
- Fresh bean-to-cup processing

Design & Build

Build Quality

Durable Construction • Intuitive Controls • Thermal Carafe Included • Easy Maintenance

Technical Specifications

Model Identification	H1000A
----------------------	--------

Safety & Operation

Operational Safety	Caution: Hot After Brewing, Auto-On Function, Manual Brew Override
--------------------	--