

Banknote Counter

This banknote counter is a compact and efficient device designed for quickly and accurately counting banknotes. It features a user-friendly interface and robust construction for reliable performance.

Overview

Professional Banknote Counting Solution

The BJ-136 is a compact and efficient device designed for quickly and accurately counting banknotes. Built for reliable performance, it features a user-friendly interface and robust construction suitable for businesses requiring precise cash handling. This unit integrates essential functions like counterfeit detection and variable batch settings to streamline your daily financial operations.

Technical Specifications

Model	BJ-136
Key Features	Counterfeit Detection, Variable Batch Settings, High-Speed Counting

Performance

Performance Metrics

1 High-Speed
Counting Speed