

Carbon Steel Striking Face Slogging Wrench

This slogging wrench is made from carbon steel. It is designed with a striking face for use with a hammer to deliver high torque.

ADDITIONAL IMAGES

Product Overview

Industrial Strength Slogging Wrench

This heavy-duty striking ring box slogging wrench is engineered for high-torque applications, specifically for loosening or tightening large nuts and bolts in challenging industrial environments. Featuring a drop-forged construction for maximum durability, it is designed to withstand impact from hammers or sledgehammers. With a versatile range of sizes available, this tool is an essential asset for maintenance and construction tasks.

Technical Specifications

Material Options	Carbon Steel, Cr-V
Surface Treatments	Black Painted, Chrome Plated, Zinc Plated
Available Size Range	17-150mm
Craftsmanship	Drop forged

Logistics & Supply

Supply Ability

2000 pieces
Weekly Supply

Delivery Time	25-30 days
Minimum Order Quantity	1 piece

Compliance

Certifications

ISO9001 • UKSA