

Cast Iron Bushes and Post Tops for Metalwork

These cast iron components are available in various sizes and shapes, including round and square openings. They are suitable for decorative metalwork and fencing applications, providing durability and enhancing structural designs.

Overview

Robust Cast Iron Components

These cast iron bushes and post tops are designed to provide both structural integrity and aesthetic enhancement for metalwork projects. Crafted for durability, these components are ideal for fencing, railing, and decorative metalwork applications. They feature a variety of shapes and sizes to accommodate diverse design requirements.

Technical Specifications

Available Opening Shapes

- Round
- Square

Material	Cast Iron
Suitable Applications	Decorative Metalwork, Fencing, Structural Design, Railings

Key Features

Key Benefits

High Durability • Aesthetic Appeal • Variety of Sizes • Robust Construction