

Clutch Facing

Clutch facings are available in asbestos and asbestos-free formulations. These facings are designed for optimal friction, high temperature resistance, and durability in a range of automotive and industrial applications.

