

Commercial Induction Cooktop Range

This commercial induction range features a stainless steel body and a smooth, black glass cooktop. It is equipped with independently controlled heating zones for efficient and precise temperature control in professional kitchens.

Overview

Professional Induction Performance

This commercial induction cooktop range is engineered for high-demand professional kitchen environments, offering a blend of durability and precision. Featuring a robust stainless steel body and a sleek, black glass cooktop surface, it provides both hygiene and ease of maintenance. The unit is equipped with multiple independently controlled heating zones, allowing chefs to manage various cooking tasks simultaneously with adjustable power levels for optimal control.

Design & Build

Body Material	Stainless Steel
Cooktop Surface	Black Glass
Base Configuration	Storage Cabinet, Adjustable Legs

Performance

Heating Control	Independent zone control
Adjustable Settings	Yes