

Commercial Induction Cooktop Range

This commercial induction range features multiple burners and a stainless steel build. It offers precise temperature control and a heavy-duty design suitable for professional kitchen environments.

Overview

Professional Commercial Induction Range

This commercial induction cooktop range is engineered for high-volume professional kitchen environments. It features durable stainless steel construction and a heavy-duty design capable of withstanding rigorous daily use. With precise temperature control and adjustable power settings, this unit offers the versatility and reliability required for demanding culinary applications.

Key Features

Design

Heavy-Duty • Commercial Grade

Build Material

Stainless Steel

Maintenance

Easy-to-clean surface

Performance

Control Interface

Precise temperature control

Cooking Capabilities

Adjustable Power Settings, Versatile Applications