

Commercial Stainless Steel Fryer

This commercial fryer is constructed from stainless steel. It features a rectangular tank, control panel with digital displays, and adjustable legs for leveling.

Product Overview

Professional Frying Solution

This commercial stainless steel fryer is engineered for high-volume frying operations in professional kitchen environments. Constructed with durable stainless steel, it features a robust rectangular tank and a precise digital control panel for consistent temperature management. Designed for stability and ease of use, the unit includes adjustable legs to ensure proper leveling on various kitchen surfaces.

Design & Construction

Material	Stainless Steel
Tank Shape	Rectangular
Key Features	Digital Control Panel, Adjustable Legs, Commercial Grade