

Commercial Stainless Steel Reach-In Refrigerator

High-performance commercial reach-in refrigerators designed for demanding food service environments. Constructed with durable stainless steel for longevity and ease of cleaning.

Overview

Professional Grade Cooling

These high-performance commercial reach-in refrigerators are engineered for demanding food service environments. Built with durable stainless steel, they provide exceptional longevity and are designed for easy maintenance and sanitation. The units feature precise temperature control and energy-efficient operation to help professional kitchens maintain food safety standards while optimizing utility costs.

Construction

Build Material	Stainless Steel
Ideal For	Restaurants, Cafes, Catering Businesses

Performance

Key Performance Features

1 High

Control Precision

2 Door Types

Configurations Available

Configuration

Door Configurations

- Single Door
- Double Door

Core Features

Energy-efficient • Easy-to-clean • Precise Temperature Control • Durable Construction