

Compound Amino Peptides Tablets for Psoriasis Treatment

These tablets contain compound amino peptides. They are indicated for the treatment of psoriasis.

Product Overview

Compound Amino Peptides Tablets

Compound Amino Peptides Tablets are a pharmaceutical formulation specifically indicated for the clinical treatment of psoriasis. This medication is designed to address the symptoms associated with the condition, commonly referred to as cowhideclt is an approved therapeutic solution for professional medical use.

Regulatory Information

State Drug Administration Approval	H21023391
------------------------------------	-----------

Clinical Indications

Treatment Category
Dermatological • Prescription Medication

Primary Indication	Psoriasis, Cowhidec
--------------------	---------------------