

Cordless Reciprocating Saw

This cordless reciprocating saw features an ergonomic design for comfortable handling and a variable speed trigger for controlled cutting. It is powered by a rechargeable battery pack, providing cordless convenience and portability for demolition and cutting various materials.

Product Overview

High-Performance Cordless Versatility

This cordless reciprocating saw is engineered for professional demolition and cutting tasks across various materials, including wood and metal. Featuring an ergonomic design for comfortable handling and a high-performance motor, it ensures efficient operation on demanding job sites. The inclusion of a quick-change blade system and variable speed trigger provides the control and convenience required for precise cutting applications.

Technical Specifications

Portability

Cordless Convenience

Power Source

Rechargeable battery pack

Key Features

Cordless, Variable Speed, Quick-Change Blade System, Ergonomic Design

Applications

Ideal Applications

- Demolition
- Cutting pipes
- Wood cutting
- Metal cutting