

Currency and Document Verification Detector

The Currency and Document Verification Detector is an electronic instrument designed for currency verification and document authentication. It features a display screen for clear visual feedback and an integrated input method for easy operation.

Overview

Professional Verification Solution

The BJ660 is a precision electronic instrument engineered for reliable currency verification and document authentication. Designed to streamline security workflows, it offers clear visual feedback and intuitive operation for fast, accurate results. This device is an essential tool for businesses requiring robust fraud prevention and quality control measures in their daily transactions.

Technical Specifications

Model Number	BJ-660
Device Type	Currency and Document Verification Detector

Key Features

Core Capabilities	Currency Verification, Document Authentication, Fraud Prevention
-------------------	--