

Cylindrical Audio System with Remote Control

This cylindrical audio system is designed for versatile placement and operation. It features a digital display for mode and track information, along with integrated volume controls and a dedicated remote control.

Product Overview

Professional Cylindrical Audio System

The TL-M2003 is a modern cylindrical audio system engineered for versatile placement and high-quality sound projection. It features an integrated digital display for real-time track and mode monitoring, complemented by tactile volume controls directly on the unit. Designed for convenience, the system includes a dedicated remote control, making it an ideal choice for professional environments requiring efficient audio management.

Technical Specifications

Interface Features

- Digital track and mode display
- On-device tactile volume controls
- Dedicated remote control unit

Design Geometry	Cylindrical
Mounting	Transparent elevated stand
Power Connection	Standard Power Cable, Wired