

Digital Cable TV Receiver

This digital cable receiver decodes digital cable signals for television viewing. It is designed for reliable performance within cable television systems.

Product Overview

High-Definition Digital Cable Receiver

This digital cable receiver is engineered to deliver high-quality video and audio performance for professional cable television systems. It supports full high-definition decoding, ensuring crisp 1080p resolution for end-users. With versatile connectivity options including HDMI and USB, this unit is designed for reliable signal processing and seamless integration into existing media setups.

Technical Specifications

Resolution

Full HD 1080p

Key Features

- Front panel display
- Integrated control buttons
- Digital cable signal decoding
- Multi-port connectivity

Connectivity

HDMI, USB