

Digital Intercom System with Keypad

This network communication device is designed for secure access and communication, suitable for building entry or intercom systems. It features a numeric keypad, a display screen, and a speaker grill.

Product Overview

Digital Intercom System

This digital intercom system is a robust network communication device designed for secure access control and streamlined communication. Featuring an integrated numeric keypad, a high-visibility digital display, and a dedicated speaker grill, it facilitates reliable user interaction for building entry or facility management. The unit is engineered to support efficient, secure, and clear communication in professional environments.

Physical Interface

Interface Components

- Numeric Keypad (0-9)
- Digital Display Screen
- Speaker Grill
- Function Buttons

Input Interface

Numeric Keypad, Function Buttons

Technical Specifications

Device Type

Network Communication Device