

Digital Terrestrial TV Receiver

This digital terrestrial receiver is designed for decoding digital television broadcasts. It supports various video and audio formats and is intended for home entertainment use, providing access to free-to-air digital TV channels.

Overview

Professional HD Terrestrial Receiver

The HD#6500 is a high-performance digital terrestrial receiver engineered to provide clear and reliable access to free-to-air digital television broadcasts. Designed with a user-friendly front panel interface, it allows for seamless menu navigation and channel management. This versatile device supports a broad spectrum of digital video and audio formats, making it an essential component for modern home entertainment systems.

Technical Specifications

Receiver Type	Digital Terrestrial
Supported Standards	DMB, TH
Display	Front panel digital display

User Interface

Control Buttons

- Menu navigation
- Channel selection (P+/P-)
- Volume control (V+/V-)
- OK selection button

Capabilities

Key Features

HD Support • Digital Media Playback • Free-to-air Ready