

Digital Terrestrial TV Set-Top Box

This digital terrestrial receiver is a set-top box designed for receiving and decoding digital terrestrial television broadcasts. It features front-panel controls for standby, menu navigation, channel selection, and volume adjustment, as well as indicators for lock status and power.

Overview

Digital Terrestrial Receiver

The JY-DT500 is a specialized set-top box engineered to receive and decode digital terrestrial television broadcasts. Designed for seamless integration into home entertainment systems, it supports standard DVB protocols for reliable signal reception. The unit features intuitive front-panel controls for easy navigation, channel management, and volume adjustment, ensuring a user-friendly experience for all viewers.

Technical Specifications

Front Panel Controls

- Standby
- Menu Navigation
- Channel Selection (CH+/CH-)
- Volume Adjustment (VOL+/VOL-)
- Power

Status Indicators

Power Indicator • Lock Status Indicator

Supported Standards

DVB