

Dried Shrimp

These are dried shrimp prepared for animal feed or further processing. The shrimp are sun-dried and densely packed, with both whole and broken pieces.

Product Overview

Premium Quality Dried Shrimp

These sun-dried shrimp are carefully processed to ensure long-lasting shelf life and concentrated flavor, making them an ideal ingredient for culinary applications. The batch features a mix of whole and processed pieces, suitable for bulk use in food manufacturing or wholesale distribution. Their pale color and shriveled texture are characteristic of high-quality, naturally dried seafood products.
