

DVD Player

The DVD player is designed for playing DVDs. It is a home entertainment device.

Product Overview

Professional Media Playback

This DVD player is designed to provide high-performance audio and video playback capabilities suitable for professional environments. Built for reliability and consistent performance, it offers robust signal handling for demanding sound reinforcement and media display applications. Its straightforward design ensures ease of operation for live sound systems, installations, and monitoring setups.

Technical Specifications

Available Models

- PA-9150
- PA-9250
- PA-9350

Key Performance Attributes

High-performance, Low distortion, Reliable operation