

Electric Anchor Windlass for Marine Use

This heavy-duty electric windlass is designed for marine applications, ensuring reliable and efficient anchor handling. It features a robust construction, a powerful electric motor, and a durable warping head for secure rope or chain management.

Product Overview

Professional Marine Anchor Windlass

This heavy-duty electric windlass is engineered for reliable anchor handling and mooring operations in marine environments. The robust construction and powerful motor ensure efficient performance for various vessel types. Designed for secure rope and chain management, it provides a dependable anchoring solution for professional maritime applications.

Technical Specifications

Available Models

- DMB-17.5
- DMB-50

Primary Applications

Anchor Handling • Mooring

Drive Type

Electric