

Expandable Container House with Hinged Sections

This expandable container house features a modular design with hinged sections for increased space. It is constructed from durable materials and includes windows and a secure door.

Overview

Modular Expandable Living Solution

The Expandable Container House offers a flexible, high-utility design featuring hinged sections that allow for rapid space expansion. Constructed from durable materials, this modular unit is engineered for versatility in professional settings. It provides an ideal solution for mobile offices, temporary housing, or recreational infrastructure requirements.

Key Features

Construction Details

- Expandable hinged modular sections
- Reinforced structural frame
- Integrated secure door system
- Built-in window panels

Applications

Recommended Applications

Mobile Office, Temporary Housing, Recreational Vehicles, Modular Infrastructure