

Flat Nose Pliers with Insulated Handles

These flat nose pliers have insulated handles for safe use. They feature precision-machined jaws for gripping and manipulating small components.

Product Overview

Precision Gripping Solution

These flat nose pliers are designed for the precise gripping and manipulation of small components. Featuring durable construction, they ensure reliable performance in a variety of professional applications. The inclusion of insulated handles provides necessary safety and comfort for extended use in electrical or mechanical tasks.

Technical Specifications

Handle Design

Insulated • Ergonomic

Jaw Style

Flat nose

Material Quality

Precision-machined, durable construction