

Freestanding Wood Burning Stove with Stone Panels

This freestanding stove is designed for burning wood. It features a black cast iron door and firebox, surrounded by light-colored stone panels and a lower storage compartment.

Overview

Aesthetic and Efficient Heating Solution

This freestanding wood-burning stove combines modern curved design with natural stone paneling to create a stunning centerpiece for any interior. Engineered for both high-efficiency heating and visual appeal, it features a durable cast iron firebox and a clear glass viewing door. The integrated lower storage compartment provides a practical solution for keeping fuel within easy reach.

Design and Build

Construction Materials	Cast Iron, Stone Panels
Installation	Freestanding

Features

Key Features

- Curved ergonomic design
- High-visibility glass firebox door
- Integrated lower wood storage compartment
- Stone exterior panels for heat retention