

FT150-3 Motorcycle for Daily Use

The FT150-3 is a robust and reliable motorcycle designed for everyday use. It features a fuel-efficient engine, providing a balance of power and economy.

Overview

Reliable Daily Commuter

The FT150-3 is a robust and reliable motorcycle engineered for consistent everyday use. It features a fuel-efficient engine that strikes an optimal balance between power output and operational economy. Designed for versatility, its sturdy frame provides stability, while the ergonomic seat ensures comfort during both urban commuting and longer journeys.

Performance

Key Performance Metrics

150 cc

Engine Displacement

| | |
|-------------|-----------------------------------|
| Engine Type | 150cc class fuel-efficient engine |
|-------------|-----------------------------------|

Safety & Handling

| | |
|----------------|---------------------------------------|
| Braking System | Responsive braking system |
| Tire Quality | Durable tires designed for daily wear |

Design & Comfort

| | |
|-------------------|---|
| Design Highlights | Ergonomic Design, Comfortable Seat, Sturdy Frame, Clear Instrumentation |
|-------------------|---|

Application

Recommended Use

- Urban Commuting
- Daily Transport
- Longer Journeys