

Fuel-Injected Sport Motorcycle

This sport motorcycle features a liquid-cooled, fuel-injected engine and a tubular frame. It is equipped with disc brakes and alloy wheels for enhanced handling and stopping power.

Overview

High-Performance Sport Motorcycle

This fuel-injected sport motorcycle is engineered for versatility, seamlessly transitioning between urban commuting and open-road riding. It features a liquid-cooled engine and a robust tubular frame, ensuring reliability and durability in various conditions. Designed with a focus on rider comfort and safety, it includes a digital instrument panel and high-performance braking systems for superior handling.

Performance

Engine System	Liquid-cooled, fuel-injected
Braking System	Front Disc Brakes, Rear Disc Brakes

Design & Build

Key Features

- Digital instrument panel
- High-performance tires
- Ergonomic rider seat
- Single headlight design

Frame Construction	Tubular Frame
Wheel Type	Alloy Wheels

Usage

Intended Use

Urban Commuting • Open-Road Riding