

General-Purpose Hardware Assortment

This hardware assortment is suitable for a variety of construction applications. It includes hinges and cylindrical metal rods for secure attachment and structural support.

Product Overview

Versatile Construction Hardware

This general-purpose hardware assortment offers a reliable selection of essential components designed for building, assembly, and maintenance projects. The kit includes high-quality hinges and structural rods, ideal for securing fixtures or providing support in various construction environments. With a polished finish and durable construction, these components are engineered to meet professional standards for versatility and long-term performance.

Component Details

Included Components

- Brass-finish hinges
- Cylindrical metal rods
- Fasteners

Finish

Polished • Brass-tone

Technical Specifications

Hinge Design	Multi-hole mounting, Secure attachment
Rod Application	Structural support and connection