

GRS15/1.5 Circulation Pump

This high-efficiency circulating pump is designed for residential and light commercial use. It provides reliable circulation for heating, cooling, and domestic hot water systems.

Overview

High-Efficiency Circulation

The GRS15/1.5 is a high-efficiency circulating pump engineered for residential and light commercial applications. It is designed to provide reliable fluid circulation and consistent temperature control across heating, cooling, and domestic hot water systems. Built for durability and quiet operation, this unit offers energy-saving performance suitable for professional installations.

Technical Specifications

Port-to-Port Distance	62 mm
Model Number	GRS15/1.5

Applications

Suitable Systems	Heating Systems, Cooling Systems, Domestic Hot Water
------------------	--