

High-Performance Application Storage Solution

This application storage solution is designed for demanding workloads, offering scalable capacity. Advanced data management features ensure data availability and protection.

Overview

High-Performance Enterprise Storage

The SV1800 is a specialized application storage solution engineered for demanding enterprise workloads. It delivers scalable capacity alongside advanced data management features to ensure continuous availability and robust protection. Designed for seamless integration, its efficient architecture supports various connectivity options for modern IT infrastructures.

Performance & Architecture

Performance Class

High-Performance • Enterprise-Grade

Model Identifier	SV1800
------------------	--------

Features

Key Capabilities

- Scalable capacity
- Advanced data management
- High data availability
- Robust data protection

Infrastructure

Connectivity	Multiple Connectivity Options, IT Infrastructure Integration
--------------	--