

Industrial Fluid Control Valve

This valve is designed for controlling fluid flow or pressure in industrial applications. Its metallic construction includes multiple ports and a mounting bracket for secure installation.

