

Industrial Pipe Flange

This pipe flange is designed for secure installation in various industrial and domestic applications. It features robust construction for demanding environments.

Product Overview

Industrial Pipe Flange Overview

This robust industrial pipe flange is engineered for secure and reliable installation in demanding environments. Designed with high-quality, corrosion-resistant components, it ensures long-lasting performance and durability for critical piping systems. Its construction supports efficient operation, making it an ideal choice for various industrial applications requiring secure mounting and structural integrity.

Technical Specifications

Construction Features

- Robust construction
- Corrosion-resistant components
- Durable housing
- Designed for easy maintenance

Mounting Style

Flange

Suitable Applications

Industrial, Domestic, Clean Water Transfer, Irrigation, Pressure Boosting
