

Industrial Sealing Gasket Assortment

This assortment includes rubber and silicone sealing plugs and gaskets. The components are designed for creating tight seals in various industrial and mechanical applications, preventing leakage and protecting against environmental factors.

Product Overview

Industrial Sealing Gasket Assortment

This professional-grade assortment provides a versatile collection of rubber and silicone sealing plugs and gaskets designed for diverse industrial applications. The set includes a range of geometries such as cylindrical, conical, and stepped designs to ensure effective sealing and protection against environmental contaminants. These components are engineered to provide tight, leak-proof solutions for various mechanical assemblies.

Technical Specifications

Available Geometries

- Cylindrical
- Conical
- Stepped

Available Colors

Black • White

Material Types

Rubber, Silicone

Application Details

Core Purpose

Creating tight seals in industrial and mechanical applications to prevent leakage and protect against environmental factors.