

Industrial Vacuum and Pumping System

This equipment is designed for a variety of industrial pumping and vacuum applications. Its durable construction ensures reliable operation and a long service life.

Overview

Industrial Vacuum and Pumping System

This robust and versatile pump and vacuum equipment is engineered for a wide range of demanding industrial applications. Featuring durable construction and efficient performance, this system ensures reliable operation and a long-lasting service life. It is designed to optimize various pumping and vacuum processes, offering exceptional performance for professional industrial environments.

Technical Details

Model Number	SM182-1
Equipment Category	Industrial Vacuum and Pumping System

Features

Key Attributes	Industrial Grade, High Durability, Versatile Application, Efficient Performance
