

Industrial Wood Processing Machine

This woodworking machine is a robust and versatile tool designed for various wood processing tasks. It features multiple adjustment handles and levers for precise control over cutting depth and angle.

Product Overview

Industrial-Grade Woodworking Utility

This industrial wood processing machine is a robust and versatile tool engineered for precision woodworking tasks. Built with a sturdy metal frame for maximum stability, the unit features a large, polished metal work surface to accommodate diverse project sizes. It includes integrated safety guards and adjustable controls, making it a reliable solution for professional workshops requiring consistent performance.

Design and Construction

Frame Color

Blue

Frame Material

Reinforced metal

Technical Specifications

Control Options

- Cutting depth adjustment
- Angle adjustment levers
- Manual handle controls

Safety Features

Protective guard, Red safety indicator

Performance

Power Source

Electric motor