

Intercom and Paging System with Video Display

This intercom and paging system facilitates communication and access control. It includes a video display, handset, and options for keypads, remote controls, and electric locks.

Product Overview

Professional Communication and Access Control

This comprehensive intercom and paging system is designed to provide secure, reliable communication and access management for both residential and commercial environments. The system features a high-quality video display unit paired with a handset for clear visual and audio interaction. With a modular design, it supports various accessories including keypads, remote controls, and electric locks to tailor the security setup to specific site requirements.

System Components

Compatible Accessories

- Video Display Main Unit
- Handset
- Keypads
- Remote Controls
- Electric Locks

Available Model Series

KW-121C, KW-214, KW-710, KW-624B, KW-254, KW-4HPL, KW-4HPLC, KW-04, KW-514

Applications

Primary Applications

Residential Security • Commercial Access Control • Secure Intercom Communication