

Laboratory Equipment and Instruments

This project involves the import of instruments and equipment for a national key laboratory. The equipment is intended for use in scientific research and development.

Project Overview

Laboratory Infrastructure Development

This procurement project focuses on the comprehensive equipping of a national key laboratory facility located in Chengdu, China. The project scope involves the international sourcing and integration of specialized laboratory instruments and support equipment. These assets are intended to support high-level academic research and technical development within the university framework.

Project Status

National Key Laboratory, Institutional Procurement, International Import

Procurement Details

Scope of Supply

- Laboratory Instruments
- Scientific Research Equipment
- Integrated Lab Support Systems

Location

Chengdu, China