

LED High Bay Light with Long Neck

This LED high bay light is designed for industrial and commercial use. Its long neck allows for optimal light distribution and heat dissipation in large indoor spaces.

ADDITIONAL IMAGES

Product Overview

High-Efficiency LED High Bay Lighting

Designed specifically for industrial and commercial environments, this LED high bay light features an innovative long-neck design that ensures optimal light distribution and superior heat management. The unit offers easy installation and compatibility with a wide range of existing lighting fixtures, making it an ideal choice for warehouses, workshops, and large indoor spaces. Its lightweight construction enhances safety during installation and operation while delivering bright, uniform illumination.

Technical Specifications

Heat Dissipation Improvement

30 %

Increase in Heat Dissipation

Standard Beam Angle	120 °
---------------------	-------

Beam Angle (with lamp cover)	100 °
------------------------------	-------

Features & Benefits

Key Advantages

- Long neck design for versatile installation
- High-power LED output
- Lightweight construction for improved safety
- Optimized middle-hole convection cooling

Recommended Applications

Warehouses, Workshops, Factories, Gymnasiums