

Long Nose Precision Pliers

These long nose pliers are designed for precision work in tight spaces. They are suitable for gripping, bending, and cutting wires and small components.

Overview

Precision Engineering for Intricate Tasks

These high-quality long nose pliers are specifically designed for precision work where accuracy is paramount. Featuring a durable construction and ergonomic handles, they ensure a comfortable grip even during extended use. The finely pointed jaws allow for easy access to tight spaces, making them an essential tool for electronics, jewelry making, and other detailed applications.

Key Features

Design Features

Ergonomic Grip • Finely Pointed Jaws • Durable Construction

Best For

Electronics, Jewelry Making, Wire Bending, Small Component Handling

Technical Details

Capabilities

- Gripping
- Bending
- Cutting wires
- Handling small components