

Metal Casing Torch Flashlight

This torch flashlight is designed for reliable illumination in various settings. Constructed with a durable metal casing, it provides enhanced protection against impacts and wear.

Product Overview

Professional Illumination Solution

This metal casing torch flashlight is engineered for durability and reliability in demanding environments. Its robust construction ensures significant protection against daily wear and impacts, making it a dependable choice for professionals. The classic cylindrical design offers ergonomic handling, while the reinforced base ensures stability when placed on surfaces.

Technical Specifications

Usage

- Professional industrial use
- Personal everyday carry
- Easy operation switch

Material	Metal
Design Features	Cylindrical body, Stable base, Impact resistant, Metal casing