

October 2 Palace of the People Replica

This is a replica of The October 2 Palace of the People in Guinea. It features a modern architectural style and serves as a distinctive decorative object.

Overview

Architectural Significance

The October 2 Palace of the People replica captures the historical and structural essence of the iconic Guinean landmark. This model showcases the building's distinctive modern architectural style, characterized by its grid-like facade and expansive plaza. It serves as an excellent representation of the palace's grandeur and national importance.

Design Specifications

Architectural Style	Modern
Key Features	Grid-like facade, Vertical columns, Horizontal beams, Central coat of arms, Spacious plaza
Geographic Origin	Guinea