

Pharmacy Refrigerated Display Case

This pharmacy display case is a specialized refrigeration unit for storing pharmaceuticals and temperature-sensitive products. It features adjustable shelving and a transparent glass door, along with a forced-air cooling system to maintain a consistent temperature.

ADDITIONAL IMAGES

Product Overview

Professional Pharmaceutical Storage

The Pharmacy Showcase PR-150 is a specialized refrigeration unit engineered for the safe and reliable storage of temperature-sensitive pharmaceuticals, vaccines, and medications. It features a forced-air cooling system that ensures consistent, uniform temperature distribution throughout the cabinet, protecting product efficacy. With a transparent glass door for clear visibility and adjustable shelving, this unit offers an ideal solution for efficient inventory management in pharmacies, hospitals, and laboratories.

Technical Specifications

Cooling System	Forced-air cooling system
Temperature Control	Digital display and control panel
Safety Features	Temperature Alarm System, Real-time Monitoring, Consistent Temperature Maintenance

Design & Build

Door Type	Transparent glass door
Shelving	Adjustable shelving
Ventilation	Base-mounted ventilation grills
Condenser Position	Rear-mounted

Applications

Suitable Facilities

- Pharmacies
- Hospitals
- Clinics
- Laboratories