

Portable Air Cooler and Heater with Digital Display

This portable unit combines air cooling and heating functions. It features a digital display, control buttons, horizontal louvers, and caster wheels for easy movement.

Product Overview

Versatile Climate Control

The AC53 is a compact, portable unit designed to provide both cooling and heating functionality for indoor environments. Featuring an intuitive digital display and user-friendly controls, it allows for precise personal climate management. Its mobile design, complete with caster wheels, ensures it can be easily repositioned to suit changing needs.

Technical Specifications

Model Number	AC53
Functions	Air Cooling, Heating

Design & Build

Mobility	Caster Wheels • Portable
Color	Black and Silver
Interface	Digital Display