

Portable Wireless Amplifier

This portable wireless amplifier is designed for versatile audio applications. It features wireless microphone compatibility and a range of input/output options.

Product Overview

Versatile Professional Audio

The KV-502 is a professional portable wireless amplifier engineered to deliver consistent audio performance in dynamic environments. Featuring integrated wireless microphone compatibility and precise audio controls, it is perfectly suited for public address systems, professional presentations, and live performances. Its robust, portable architecture ensures rapid deployment and ease of transport for any professional setting.

Technical Specifications

Model Identifier	KV-502
Key Audio Capabilities	Wireless Microphone Compatible, Digital Echo Receiver, Adjustable Audio Parameters

Usage

Applications

- Public Address Systems
- Professional Presentations
- Live Performances