

Residential Electrical Distribution Box

Residential distribution boxes provide electrical circuit protection and distribution in residential settings. They feature a durable enclosure with a transparent cover for easy inspection of circuit breakers.

ADDITIONAL IMAGES

Product Overview

Residential Electrical Distribution Box

This distribution box is engineered for efficient electrical power management and circuit protection in residential environments. It features a robust design that supports both surface and flush mounting configurations for versatile installation. The enclosure provides organized housing for circuit breakers, ensuring reliable operation and enhanced safety for modern home electrical systems.

Technical Standards

Protection Rating

IP40

Compliance Standards

IEC60439-3:1990, GB7251.3-1997, IEC60529

Construction

Mounting Options

- Flush mounting
- Surface mounting

Door Variants

- Milk white
- Transparent