

Retractable Segmented Blade Utility Knife

This durable utility knife features a retractable, segmented blade for precise cutting. The knife's body is constructed from high-impact plastic, offering a comfortable grip and long-lasting performance.

Product Overview

Professional Utility Knife

This retractable segmented blade utility knife is engineered for precision and durability in demanding work environments. Constructed from high-impact plastic, the body provides a comfortable, ergonomic grip for extended use. The segmented blade system allows users to easily snap off dull sections to maintain a consistently sharp edge, making it an essential tool for cutting cardboard, paper, and plastic materials.
