

Satellite TV Receiver

This satellite TV receiver is designed to receive and decode satellite television signals. The device supports direct satellite TV reception and features a digital display along with channel navigation buttons.

Product Overview

Professional Satellite TV Decoding

This satellite TV receiver is engineered for high-performance signal decoding, ensuring clear and reliable television reception. Designed with user-friendly navigation and a clear digital display, it offers intuitive control over channel selection and power management. Supporting ABS-S broadcasting standards, this unit is a robust solution for direct satellite TV viewing environments.

Technical Specifications

Broadcast Compatibility

ABS-S

Key Features

- Digital display interface
- On-device channel navigation controls
- Dedicated volume adjustment buttons
- Direct satellite reception support

Model Number

YH-2800AK