

Satin Brass Data Port Faceplate with Sloped Edge

This data port faceplate features a satin brass finish and sloped edge design. It is designed for establishing data connections in residential or commercial settings, providing a professional installation for network and communication cables.

Product Overview

Professional Connectivity Solution

This Satin Brass Data Port Faceplate with a sloped edge is designed for both residential and commercial applications. The elegant finish ensures a professional aesthetic, while the durable construction provides a secure and clean installation for all network and communication cabling needs.

Physical Properties

Finish	Satin Brass
Design	Sloped Edge
Port Configuration	Single Port

Compliance and Safety

Recommended Use

- Residential Installations
- Commercial Network Environments

Safety Indicators	Voltage Hazard Warning
-------------------	------------------------