

Signal Reception Antenna

This antenna is designed for electronic communication and signal reception. It features a sleek, ergonomic design with a metallic finish.

Product Overview

High-Performance Signal Reception

This signal reception antenna is engineered for reliable electronic communication and efficient signal capture. Featuring a sleek, ergonomic design with a durable metallic finish, it integrates a curved support arm with a compact receiver unit. Its precision-engineered construction ensures stable performance for professional communication requirements.

Design & Build

Finish	Metallic
Design Style	Ergonomic, Compact, Curved Support

Technical Features

Primary Application

Electronic Communication • Signal Reception

Receiver Components

- Circular side element
- Multi-point circular body details